ADOPTION FIRST STEPS (AFS)

We help families and individuals adopt children from overseas orphanages or state care into suitable New Zealand homes.

Established by parents with first hand experience of inter-country adoption, we give down-to-earth information and advice about the requirements and process, as well as what to expect throughout your journey.

To qualify for inter-country adoption you must be a New Zealand Resident living and working in New Zealand.

You may be able to adopt from:

- India
- Thailand
- The Philippines
- Lithuania
- Chile

HOW CAN I ADOPT FROM OVERSEAS?

If you are thinking about overseas adoption you need to first find out whether you are eligible.

You then need to determine whether you meet the criteria for the country from which you wish to adopt and, importantly, whether inter-country adoption is right for you.

AFS can advise you on what your options may be. We also provide the following step by step services:

Checks – You will need to satisfy various medical, police and reference checks.

Education – Each parent will need to complete an Education Programme, so they are well prepared for the unique experience of inter-country adoption.

Assessment – A Social Worker will formally assess your suitability against set criteria such as parenting skills, home and family environment etc.

Home Study Report – If all the requirements of these steps are met, AFS then works with you on this Report to apply for Government approval.

If approval is granted, adoptive families can then work with a separate Placement Agency to be matched with a child.

Being able to meet the needs of the child is always paramount.

FREE INTRODUCTORY COURSE

AFS offers a free introductory course which tells you more about inter-country adoption.

The course is on the AFS website.

We are also happy to talk to you confidentially about any aspect of inter-country adoption and, if you wish to proceed, we can then start the process.

"Thanks for your support. It's a huge process and you have been wonderful and made the first step of the way a total joy."
